

Facing Fear Answer Sheet

Dear Parent or Guardian,

When you are talking to young people about tough issues such as terrorism, war or flu pandemic, the most important thing is that you are talking. Remember that children and adolescents may not always let an adult know when they are concerned or have questions about certain topics they hear on the news or from friends. We hope that the information in Masters of Disaster Facing Fear will help you to discuss these tough issues with the young people in your care.
